SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 3, 1852.5

Philadelphia Dec. 31, 1851. Me. Ерітов :-- ..

· Within a week our city has been visited by two very destructive fires. On last Briday night, a fire was discovered about 12 o'clock in Hart's building, on the North East corner of 6th and Chestnut street, which before it was subdued, entirely destroyed the large and costly edifice in which it originated, the Shakspeare buildings on the apposite side of Bili street. Johnson's buckstore, and the Engle Hotel, were also destroyed. The loss of property Wite immense, and what is more to be regretted, there was a fearful loss of life. Two colored men who were warming themselves by a bon-fire on 6th St. were instantly killed by the fulling walls of the Shakspeare building, Mr. Baker of the Marshall's Police, and W. W. Haly Faq., were also buried beneath the coins of Hart's building. Mr. Haly was engaged in removing properly from the building, when he was enoght by a falling timber and perished in the flaufer. His last exclamation was "Oh God I am burning to death." But few members of the Bar have carned a higher or mere enviable reputation. This loss is deeply deplored by the community and the deepest sympathy is felt for his poor wife, who after a few brief months of domestic joy is left a sad and disconsolate widow. Last evening ubout 5 o'clock a fire broke out in Barnum's Museum building corner of 7th and Chestnut street. The fire originated in the upper rooms and owing to the great height of the building was entirely heyond the reach of the firemen. In less than three hours the noble structure was reduced to a heap of ruins, and its varied and costly collections of curiosities to a heap of ashes .--Notwithstanding an immense amount of water was thrown on the surrounding buildings, yet their preservation seems almost miraculous. The heat was in tense and the streets on both sides very narrow, Mr. Spooner the Proprietor of the Aluseum will loose some $30,000.-D. G. Henderson & Co., successors to G. S. Appleton, booksellers: Lea & Walker minic publishers: Staymen & Brothers, music dealers, and B. L. Walker ugent for the sale of Checkerings Pranos were fortenately insured to the full unimust of the damage done their stock of goods &c; as was Mr. Swain, the awar of the building. The fire companies deserve great credit forconfinining the flames where, it commend ed. By the way, you will probably in the future have but few firemens riols to mindunce as occurring among us --Chief Marshal Keyser and his revolvers, have converted the variest bullies of the town into peace men of the first water. The consolidated police are deservedly popular with the citizens. There is no noise about them. They transact their liusiness in a business way always using mild means with mild men, but never hesitating to aubdue the turbulent, whatever the cost. This is undoubtedly the policy to be pursued by all municipal amborities. It is humane and just preserving alike property life and morals-

Koseuth has come and gone, taking with him about $1000 in money and leaving us to discuss at our leisure the new and startling doctrine, that he has defended with signal ability and I fea signal success. It would by idle to de ny that he has converted to his views hundreds of our most influential citizens. His visit to this country is less likely to benefit Hungary than to injure America. Certain political leaders among us have already endorsed his views and the question of intervention and non-intervention is to be inwrought into our next presidential campaign.

The weather that for a week was very severe, is now warm and damp; the streets almost impassible, business duil. minusements at a premium, and etocks at a discount. The editorial fraternity are hard at work, abusing each other and puffing their patrons, Fitzgerald of the "flity Item" and Col. Wallace of the "Sup" the same ready wit that he was when young and handsome.

Whilst I was at Moscow, says a trav-eller, a quarte volume was published in layor of the liberties of the people: a singular subject, when we consider the place where the took was printed. In this work the iniquitous venality of pub-lic functionaries, and even the conduct lie functionaries, and even the conduct of the sovertign, was sorutinized and consured with great freedom. Such a book, and in such a country, naturally attracted general-notice, and the afterder was taken into custody. After being tried in a summary way, his production was termed to be a libel, and he was condenned to cut his own words. The condenned to cut his own words. The singularity of such a sentence induced me to see it put into execution.

A scaffold was erected in one of the most public streets in the city; the impartial provest, the magistrates, the physicians, and the Czar attended; the physicians, and the Ozar attended, the book was separated from the binding, the margin cut off, and every leaf rolled up like a lottery ticket when taken out of the wheel. The author was then served with them, teaf by leaf by the provost, who put them into his mouth to the no small diversion of the spectators, and he was obliged to availlow his unplicible food on pain of the knowled. palatable food, on pain of the knowt-in Russia more feared then death. As soon as the medical gentleman believed he had received into his stomach as much at one time as was consistent with his safety, the transgressor was sent back to prison, and the husiness was resumed the two fellowing days. BY TELEGRAPIS:

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. Kossuth had an interview with the President this afternoon, when he was Introduced by Mr. Webster. The latter presented him as Gov. Kossuth, and they shook hands cordially.

Kossuli addressed the President in a brief speech, setting forth his country's cause and her wrongs, his history of her struggle and the result of his own exile and liberation, with his own history: till now. He stood before the President in the proud position of the nation's guest.

He thanked the President, and the nation through bim, for the interest they had taken in his behalf. He went on to consider the course pursued by Russia, and argued that she had violated a great national law. A necessity has arrisen for the vindication of the law. He concluded by stating that he had been ledifrom the character, position, and profession of our nation, to hope that it would become the executive power to enforce the law of nature and of nature's God,

The speech was most eloquent. The President's reply was brief and noncommittal.

Among those present were Gen. Shields, Mr. Seward, and Messrs. Hall, Grahum and Contad, of the Cabinet. Every member of Koszuth's suite was excluded.

After returning, Kossuth called on Mr. Cass.

Mr. Webster had a long private interview with Kossuth after he came from the President's.

Kossuth has been served with a subpana to appear before the Grand Jury, It is understood to be in a case of Major Technian, against some parly here for slandering his wife, late Md'ile Jagello.

It is understood that Mr. Fillmore will give the Hongarian and his suite a sort of a lamily dinner which will be partaken of by a few of our own states-men, but to which none of the foreign ambassadors will be invited.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.
The President yesterday in his reply to Kossuth, assured him of his deep wishes for the establishment every where of well constituted, free governments, and of the sympathy he had telt in common with all his countrymen in the recent structed of Hungary ice paices. recent struggle of Hungary for national independence.

independence.

He adverted to the rettled notice of this collection nations, and observed that the sentiments contained in his message were expressed by him not merely for the purpose of communicating them to Congress, but as a declaration also to all the world, of what he deemed to be the cettled policy of, thu country to which he was bound to adhere.

RULES FOR SPELLING .- The following rules should be carefully committed to memory, as the knowledge of them will prevent that hesitation about the spelling of common words which is frequently experienced even by the well educated.

Rule 1 .- Ali monasyllables ending in with a single vowel before it, have double lat the close, mill, sell.

Rule H .- All monasyllables ending in L with a double vowel before it, have one I only at the close; as wall, sail.

If the y be proceded by a vowel, this rule is not applicable; as, key keye; I play, he plays; we have enjoyed ourselves.

Rule XIV, -- compound words whose primitives and in y change y into i; ne, leavity, beautiful; lovely, loveliness .-Journal of Education.

A carious application has been made at the Pension office in Washington, for the land bounty granted by the net of September, 1850. The man who applies affirms that he volunteered in September, 1832, in Dauphin County, Pennsylvania, for an indefinite time and served in the war of the United States against the Nulliflers of South Carolina. Two witnesses testify that they saw him depart on this service and return.—N. Y. Post.

An Inchest.-A difficulty occurred, and difficulties will occur, between a preacher and the choir of his church, which for a considerable time deprived the congregation of the benefit of the service of the orchestra. The delinquents at length relented, and appeared in full numbers at the usual time of service. The Parson ascended the pulpit as usual, looked about on the congregation, paying particular attention to the unexpected accersion to his hearers, and when the time arrived for reading the hymn, he arose, and with a very significant tone, look and air, with his eyes fixed on the recent absentees, began-
